DermaSpark
Products Inc.

We have developed a simple way for you to add TriLipo to your website. It doesn't require any website design or sophisticated code, and it can be done in less than 15 minutes with limited web skills.

The area shown in yellow is what is inserted. Your website design remains the same and TriLipo content is simply embedded on a page within your website.

Quick Guide

To embed the TriLipo content into your website, decide what web page within your site you want the information to appear, open the HTML editor for that page, and paste the following code into the HTML. You must copy everything including the opening < and the closing > symbols.

<iframe class="" style="border: none;"
src="http://partners.dermaspark.com/trilipo/"
scrolling="yes" height="3500" width="100%">

If you aren't sure how to edit the HTML of your website, please contact the person who built your website. (DermaSpark has no way of determining the specifications of your unique website.)

Benefits

It's essential to promote all of your services in great detail on your website. However, as a busy business owner, we understand that developing marketing content for your website can be a challenge. We have developed a solution.

• Add the TriLipo to your website in less than 15 minutes
• Offer your clients the information that we know helps them make a buying decision without having to develop and test it yourself
• Benefit from the brand recognition of TriLipo
• It's embedded in your site so your website design is not effected

Our Commitment

We are committed to helping our clients achieve success. Superior marketing support is one of the ways we do that.
